Swift Current hosts SUMA spring regional meeting

Mayors, council members and administrators from Saskatchewan cities, towns and villages are meeting during the month of June in a series of semi-annual regional meetings of Saskatchewan Urban Municipalities Association (SUMA) members.

“Our regional meetings provide a great opportunity for local municipal council members to gather to discuss issues for their region, and also to share solutions. We also receive extremely valuable input from our members, which helps us to focus our efforts in the coming year,” said SUMA President Allan Earle.

Impacts of the new provincial Municipal Operating Grant program, federal and provincial infrastructure funding commitments, and SUMA strategic plan updates were included as part of the discussion. The agenda also included issues specific to the region.

SUMA is the collective voice of urban municipal governments in Saskatchewan, representing 450 member municipalities. Through strength in unity, SUMA advocates, negotiates and initiates improvements in local, provincial and federal legislation and delivers programs and services to members to enhance urban life in Saskatchewan.
