Advocacy Update

SUMA Responds to Environment and Climate Change Canada's Public Consultation

On May 26, SUMA completed an online survey as part of Environment and Climate Change Canada's public consultation on the Canada-wide Strategy for the Management of Municipal Wastewater Effluent. Our submission focused on the pressures Saskatchewan urban municipalities face including aging infrastructure, affordability challenges, workforce shortages, and climate resilience.

We called on the federal government to adopt flexible funding frameworks that recognize the fiscal realities of smaller communities and to ensure municipalities have a meaningful voice as the strategy moves forward.

Minister of Environment and SK Recycles Responds to EPR Questions

Earlier this year, SUMA formally reached out to SK Recycles to address the ongoing challenges with the Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) implementation and seek clarity on behalf of our members. We submitted a comprehensive list of the issues members raised, alongside the specific actions we expect to see to ensure this system works for all municipalities. These concerns were outlined in our What We Heard document.

SK Recycles has now shared their responses to our questions.

We have also received a letter of response from Minister of Environment the Honourable Darlene Rowden, which can be read here.

We invite all members to review these documents to see the specific advocacy areas we are pushing forward on your behalf and the responses we have received from SK Recycles and the Minister of Environment.

We are currently working on our next steps and will continue to provide updates.

Feedback Requested: Regional Approaches to Bylaw Enforcement

SUMA is seeking your feedback on regional approaches to bylaw enforcement. If your community has a success story to share on regional approaches to hiring bylaw officers and/or bylaw enforcement, please reach out to Advocacy Advisor Dustin Austman at advocacy3@suma.org or 306-525-4321.

Thank you in advance for your input. This will help shape our advocacy and build our understanding of best approaches in Saskatchewan municipalities.

SUMA's Submission to Federal Sustainable Development Strategy

Last week SUMA submitted a letter in response to Environment and Climate Change Canada's public consultation on the Draft 2026-2029 Federal Sustainable Development Strategy (FSDS).

This submission responds to the three pillars of the Draft Strategy: Building an Inclusive and Resilient Society, Driving Sustainable Growth, and Protecting Our Environment and Well-Being.

Our submission urges the federal government to work with Saskatchewan's urban municipalities as key partners in sustainable development. We call for more direct, predictable, and flexible funding, especially for infrastructure, water, climate resilience, reconciliation, and community well-being. We stress that federal strategies must reflect local realities, with flexible policies and higher federal cost-sharing for smaller and northern communities; integrated project streams; and dedicated support for water and wastewater, climate adaptation, and emergency response. We advocate for the role of municipalities in reconciliation, newcomer settlement, mental health, and digital connectivity to be recognized and funded. We also are requesting a permanent municipal advisory table to ensure ongoing consultation.

Better Together: Co-Governance Lessons from the Lac La Ronge Region

Sponsored by

Webinar - Better Together: Co-Governance Lessons from the Lac La Ronge Region

What if three governments could deliver stronger services at lower cost — simply by choosing to work together? In the Lac La Ronge region, that's exactly what's happened.

On Thursday, June 4 at 10:00 a.m., join us for the webinar Better Together: Co-Governance Lessons from the Lac La Ronge Region to learn how a First Nation and two municipalities built 20 years of partnership, and what it means for communities across the province.

Over the past 20 years, the Lac La Ronge Indian Band, the Town of La Ronge, and the Village of Air Ronge have built some of the most developed co-governance models in the province. Together, they now jointly manage water treatment, fire services, and waste management — and are exploring shared recreation services next. By combining their expertise and resources, they've been able to provide more robust services than any of them could deliver alone, at a lower cost to each government.

But the impact goes beyond efficiency. Through this partnership, they are building trust and mutual understanding — and in doing so, they're living out the spirit of Truth and Reconciliation and the spirit and intent of the Treaty relationship.

As First Nations and municipalities across Saskatchewan face growing pressure to maintain quality services with shrinking resources, the lessons from Lac La Ronge are both timely and practical. This webinar is for First Nation and municipal leaders, administrators, and anyone working on intergovernmental collaboration. Join representatives from the Lac La Ronge Indian Band and the Town of La Ronge as they share:

- How the partnership was built — and what made it work
- The co-governance models they've developed across multiple service areas
- The challenges they've navigated and how trust was established over time
- Practical lessons for other communities ready to explore working together

OTHER UPDATES

CN Railroaders for Change Initiative

Homelessness is one of today's most pressing community challenges. Across North America, it has been rising due to a mix of factors, including housing costs, inflation, mental health challenges, and unexpected life events. It can affect people from all backgrounds, especially those already vulnerable.

Rather than a single cause, homelessness is often the result of a chain of events that becomes overwhelming without support. Addressing it requires both immediate assistance and preventative measures that tackle root causes and promote housing stability.

CN recognizes the strong link between homelessness and community safety. When people lack stable housing, it affects both individual well-being and broader community health. As a company operating in many communities, CN sees a shared responsibility to help create safer environments. In response, CN launched the CN Railroaders for Change initiative—a $100 million commitment over 10 years. This initiative supports a comprehensive approach that combines immediate support with long-term prevention and research.

A key priority is collaboration with nonprofit and community partners to ensure resources are directed where they have the most impact. The initiative focuses on:

- Research and data: Improving understanding of homelessness and effective solutions
- Prevention programs: Supporting housing stability through services and financial assistance
- Frontline services: Funding shelters, outreach, and health supports
- Employee engagement: Encouraging CN employees to contribute locally

Over the past 11 years, our Rescue events have raised over $4.1 million for our critical care operations in Saskatchewan.

The gala will bring together 300+ people from the community to enjoy dinner, live entertainment, and a silent auction to help us reach our fundraising goal for Rescue on the Prairie.

We invite you to join us for this special celebration to connect to the heart of our mission and our commitment to shaping the future of critical care for our province. Individual tickets for the event are $225 or a full table of 8 is $1800.

WorkSafe Saskatchewan Celebrates Safety Leadership

WorkSafe Saskatchewan recognized safety leaders from across the province last week at the 2026 Safe Worker and Safe Employer Awards, which celebrate individuals and organizations who are helping make workplaces safer across Saskatchewan. WorkSafe Saskatchewan, the workplace safety partnership between the Saskatchewan Workers' Compensation Board (WCB) and the Ministry of Labour Relations and Workplace Safety presents these awards.

The recipient of the 2026 Safe Worker Award is Matthew Walker, an operator with the City of Melville - one of SUMA's member municipalities.

Walker earned recognition for his proactive approach to identifying hazards and improving everyday work. In his role, he helps maintain water and sewer lines and supports a range of public works activities, from street sanding and snow removal to equipment operation and repairs. He is known for speaking up about safety concerns, completing equipment inspections and hazard assessments and working with co-workers to find safer ways to complete tasks.

One example involved identifying that a tool used in street sanding created unnecessary physical strain. Walker helped develop a lighter version that reduced ergonomic hazards by more than 50 per cent and improved efficiency, making the task safer and easier for workers of different sizes and strengths. He later shared the improvement during a safety meeting so others could adopt the safer option.

Congratulations to Matthew and the City of Melville!

Why the Targeted Sector Support (TSS) Funding Grant Matters

Municipalities often face resource constraints, administrative hurdles, and governance complexities for starting new or costly initiatives beyond normal operations of the municipality. Targeted Sector Support (TSS) Grant Funding directly addresses these issues by reviewing applications to fund 75% of these costs with the intent to:

- Encourage Inter-Community Collaboration: Projects must involve at least one partner municipality or community, fostering regional unity and shared solutions.
- Enhance Governance and Capacity: Funding supports training, restructuring, and strategic planning that elevates municipal leadership and administration.
- Drive Innovation in Service Delivery: From emergency management plans to regional land use strategies, TSS-funded projects improve efficiency and responsiveness.

Each project can receive up to 75% of eligible costs, capped at $100,000 maximum funding, making it a high-impact, low-barrier opportunity for municipalities to innovate and grow.

TSS is a portion of Municipal Revenue Sharing ($1.5 million per fiscal year) used to encourage inter-community collaboration, help build capacity and promote good governance in all Saskatchewan municipalities. The funds are used to support projects that help municipalities strengthen their core governance and administration responsibilities

The TSS Steering Committee is now accepting applications for funding under this program. Applications are accepted at any time of the year and will be reviewed on a monthly basis.

Please view the intake guide for details on the TSS initiative, project eligibility, and the application process. The online application portal can be accessed here.
