Mayors from across the province were back in class last week at the SUMA Mayors' Summer School. Hosted at the University of Regina, the event brought together 47 Mayors (including 8 online participants) for two days of learning, networking, and collaborative conversations.

Mayors' Summer School included education sessions and conversation on topics including:

ADVOCACY UPDATE

SUMA Calls for Unified Municipal Voice on Federal Infrastructure

Investment

Along with the Saskatchewan Heavy Construction Association, Concrete Saskatchewan, MERIT Contractors Association Saskatchewan, and the Association of Consulting Engineering Companies - Saskatchewan, SUMA sent a letter on July 18 to the Right Honourable Mark Carney and the Honourable Scott Moe calling on the federal and provincial governments to implement a new tri-party infrastructure program so municipalities can provide the critical infrastructure required to drive economic development and community growth in Saskatchewan. We called on both governments to advance trade corridors to better get our products to market, and to engage with municipal leaders across our province to identify additional solutions for supporting jobs and economic development in Saskatchewan.

We are pleased with the response received from the Government of Saskatchewan, which affirmed our calls for a tri-party infrastructure program that is long-term, predictable, and responsive to the needs of Saskatchewan communities and for engagement with municipal and industry leaders to advance municipal priorities.

Please read our joint letter here and the Honourable Scott Moe's response here.

Canada Housing Infrastructure Fund (CHIF) Fall Intake Announced

On March 10, the Governments of Saskatchewan and Canada announced a 10-year agreement under the Canada Housing Infrastructure Fund (CHIF). The province will receive $187.9 million through the CHIF program to address housing-enabling infrastructure priorities. In addition, the Government of Saskatchewan is committing approximately $155 million toward this program. With the new fund, communities across Saskatchewan will be able to build or improve the critical infrastructure related to drinking water, wastewater, stormwater and solid waste in order to support more homes.

Last week, on August 21, the Government of Saskatchewan announced the intake opening for applications to CHIF. Applications are due by November 28.

CEO Jean-Marc Nadeau spoke on behalf of SUMA at the announcement event.

"Increasing the housing supply and affordability in our communities depends on our municipalities having the means to invest in the infrastructure that those houses will connect to," said CEO Nadeau. "We look forward to continuing collaboration between our municipal, provincial, and federal governments to ensure Saskatchewan communities can meet the needs of our growing province now and in the future."

SUMA Gathers with the Government of Saskatchewan and the Official Opposition

Earlier in August, SUMA joined Policy Discussion tables hosted by the Saskatchewan New Democrats in Prince Albert, where we discussed economy, crime, and public safety with NDP MLAs and local leadership.

We are grateful for continued opportunities to discuss the priorities and needs of Saskatchewan's urban municipalities with our provincial counterparts.

IRCC: Online Survey on Economic Priorities and Categories for Express Entry

Canada's immigration system is critical to supporting our economy and building a stronger Canada for all. That's why Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) introduced category-based selection in 2023.

Category-based selection provides more flexibility to the way economic immigrants are selected through Express Entry, the online system IRCC uses to manage immigration applications from skilled workers. These categories also inform the eligibility criteria for the post-graduation work permit (PGWP), a temporary residence program which provides work experience opportunities to recent international graduates.

We regularly review these categories, and the overarching economic priorities that they support. This allows Express Entry to be more responsive to changing economic and labour market needs of communities across the country.

If you're interested in providing your feedback on the priorities that the Government of Canada should consider to help address Canada's economic needs through category-based selection in 2026, IRCC invites you to respond to an online survey before September 3, 2025.

To read more about this year's engagement initiative and complete the online survey, click here.

If you have any comments or questions, email IRCC.Engagement-Engagement.IRCC@cic.gc.ca.

Public Reporting on Municipal Waterworks Due September 1

Municipalities that must submit their 2024 public reporting on municipal waterworks to the Ministry of Government Relations are required to do so by September 1. Emails were sent to each of these municipalities in July, along with a link to the online questionnaire and instructions on how to complete it.

Waterworks data is collected for assessing sustainability and improving transparency.

Failure to submit the information may affect eligibility to access funding under the Municipal Revenue Sharing program.

If you have any questions, please contact the financial management unit at the Ministry of Government Relations via email at waterworks@gov.sk.ca or phone 306-787-8859 or 306-787-2655.

Saskatchewan Public Safety Agency Accessibility Plan: Survey

The Saskatchewan Public Safety Agency (SPSA) is currently developing its Accessibility Plan, and is seeking input from residents and organizations across the province to ensure the plan is meaningful, inclusive, and impactful. All urban municipalities are invited to participate in the Accessibility Survey, which is open until August 29, 2025. The survey takes less than 15 minutes to complete and can be accessed here through the link: www.SPSA-ASA.com.

Your insights about experiences with accessibility—whether as an individual or as part of an organization—are vital to helping the SPSA identify, remove, and prevent barriers in the locations, services, and programs it provides. Hearing directly from Saskatchewan residents, organizations, and municipalities is a key part of building a plan that reflects real needs and priorities.

The plan will be publicly available starting on December 3, 2025.

If you have any questions about the survey or the SPSA's accessibility work, email spsaaccessibility@gov.sk.ca.

Local Leadership for Climate Adaptation (LLCA)

The Federation of Canadian Municipalities, through its Green Municipal Fund, has launched a new intake for the Local Leadership for Climate Adaptation (LLCA) funding program that supports the development of municipal climate adaptation plans, climate-focused asset management strategies, community-wide climate risk assessments, and capacity-building initiatives.

In the past year, Eco-West Canada (EWC) has successfully helped several municipalities in securing funding under this program and is now extending its support to communities in Saskatchewan. As a partner of the Saskatchewan Urban Municipalities Association (SUMA) and its new Municipal Eco-Action Centre, EWC is well-positioned to assist Saskatchewan municipalities in navigating this opportunity.

To get started, municipalities will need to complete FCM's Climate-Ready Communities

Assessment Tool — an important first step in the application process. EWC can help guide your municipality through this assessment and the full funding application process afterward.

The deadline to submit applications to the LLCA program is September 16.

If your municipality is interested in developing a climate adaptation plan and pursuing funding through this opportunity, please contact Eco-West Canada to learn how we can support you.
